Bird Walk Report

A great day of birding at Half-Moon WMA that started out in the FOG. I truly didn't think we would see the Eastern Meadowlark at our first stop as the fog was terrible but low and behold one came in to the call. The entrance road to Half-Moon produced many species including a first for this venue Ovenbird. 10 cars proceeded through the gate and many spring arrivals. We got all our target birds except the Brown-headed Nuthatch. The highly sought after Bachman's Sparrow greeted us at the end of the road and sang his song to us as the day ended. A total of 53 species for the day.

Hope you all had a great day of birding!

Stop, Look and Listen,

Barb Gay
