Twenty birders braved the frigid temps (only 54 degrees!) to find 42 bird species as well as some beautiful domestic ducks, at Tuscvilla Park in Ocala this morning.

It began with a female wood duck on a nesting box and three male wood ducks right next to our cars and beautiful black and white domestic ducks with muscovies begging for scraps of food, which of course we didn't give them! There were large birds for those who wanted great pictures and tons of tiny birds for anyone who was fast enough to find them. So many yellow-rumped warblers! Yellow-bellied sapsuckers also put on a great show along with some elusive northern parulas and a majestic red shouldered hawk posing beautifully for us all. There was plenty of room for everyone to spread out and many people who helped spot the birds and also showed others where they were. One of the highlights near the end of our walk was the green heron across the pond! As we got into our cars, Mike noticed a lone American White Pelican slowly circling above and looking like it was thoroughly enjoying the breeze. The list of birds is attached. There isn't a spot for the mallard/mottled hybrid so I put in both species. Please let me know if I missed any. Thank you to all for a great morning! I look forward to seeing your pictures!

Wendy
