On Jan 8, 2020 there were 23 birders who met at the Hogeye Preserve for the bird walk and we identified 46 species. It was a cool start but by the time we finished it was a warm and wonderful day. In the first half mile we saw so many birds it was difficult to keep track, and most chose to take the full 3.5 mile walk around the preserve. We did not see the Roseate Spoonbill, but the preserve is close, and, on any day, you can go there for another look. We are lucky to have such a beautiful place to bird so close to us.
