A group of eight birders braved the chilly but sunny morning and had some great birding at Ocklawaha. We first came across a large mixed flock of rapidly moving Chipping Sparrows that attracted other birds including Eastern Towhees, Yellow-rumped Warblers, Yellow-throated Warbler, and Palm and Pine Warblers. Great views of Pileated Woodpeckers, a Yellow-bellied Sapsucker, Downy Woodpecker and Eastern Bluebirds were found along the road. We did make it to the actual site, and found a lot of American Robins, another flock that contained a mystery warbler (our photographer Barb Peterson will be sending the photos out to others to help identify) and the day ended with three Bald Eagles flying overhead.

We had 43 species, a day that warmed up nicely, and a great lunch at Dam Diner.
